Communication/ Listening and started with Resilience.

On the second day where magic bus gave on the how to have proper Communication. Good communication is essential to emotional resilience because it breeds positive emotions instead of negative ones. Knowing more about how to communicate clearly and with sensitivity can help you to avoid problems before they start.

There are multiple postures or attitudes people can take up when communicating with one another. People can take an aggressive and challenging posture towards others, for instance, by making accusations and threats designed to intimidate or compel particular responses. They can also take a passive posture towards others, for instance, by accepting threats and accusations without challenge. There are serious problems with both of these postures, however, in that they both tend to produce and prolong unnecessary conflicts, and in general to create stress where it doesn't need to exist. Aggressive communication postures convey a lack of respect for those who are threatened, while passive postures convey a lack of self-respect on the part of the person being threatened.

Day 3: Team Building and Resilience

Where magic Bus conducted Day 3 on Team Building and Resilience Where magic bus thought about how the team building works in the organisation and also about the and leadership skills also. Where magic bus conducted on Building a resilient team is no easy feat. It takes empathy, effective communication, and honesty to establish trust with one another. Below are a few key elements you can incorporate to build a resilient team.

Leadership requires balance. It's about strength and humility, focusing on vision and gathering input. The most successful leaders inspire people, believe in others' potential, and show empathy even when faced with difficult decisions. Most people don't immediately become managers the moment they enter the working world. They start on the bottom rung of the ladder and gradually take on more responsibilities until they reach leadership level.

DAY 4: Career Guidance and Self Awareness

Where magic bus conducted about the Career Guidance and self awareness to all the 1st and 2nd year Students, it magic bus conducted program on Career Guidance it's a process helping individual skills and career decision and interest and goals and also career planning of every student. Where magic bus thought about Self-awareness is your ability to perceive and understand the things that make you who you are as an individual, including your personality, actions, values, beliefs, emotions, and thoughts. Essentially, it is a psychological state in which the self becomes the focus of attention.

Day 5: Resume Building

Where Magic bus said about how to make impression on resume building in the organisation a resume is a formal document that serves to show a person's career background and skills. In most cases, it's created in order to help a candidate to land a new job. A traditional resume consists of a professional summary, work history, and education sections. It works like your job hunt marketing document.

Where magic bus showed some sample resume and how to create the resume and also preferred which type job role you want apply and also you need to add some for the type job role in the skills in that resume.
