INTERNAL QUALITY ASSURANCE CELL

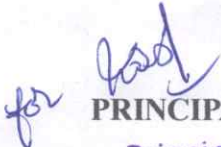

Feedback Analysis Report

IQAC of our institution is continuously striving to improve quality in higher education and believes in collection, analysis of feedback on curriculum and from stakeholders is an important exercise because it helps to understand needs and expectations, identify problems and opportunities, improve learning, assess quality of teaching and learning and make regular modifications. In this context IQAC collects feedback every year from four major stakeholders Student, teacher, Alumni and Employers. Four relevant feedback forms were designed and distributed to respective stakeholders and collected and analysed. The analysis revealed that all the stakeholders have expressed fair satisfaction regarding the curriculum and few are unhappy with certain aspects like relevance of curriculum with respect to job requirement, expectations from job market, promotion to entrepreneurship development and adding more scope for experiential learning. All the issues cited in the feedback were noted brought to the notice of principal and management and actions were taken accordingly.
